Overview

The goal of the Child and Adolescent Psychotherapy Program (CAPP) is to provide participants with an exposure to concepts that inform psychodynamic therapy with children and adolescents. One central focus is on the application of these concepts to a variety of clinical settings, including clinics, agencies, community mental health centers, hospitals, and private practice. The program provides a solid grounding in psychoanalytic principles while being attentive to the realities of clinical practice in the current mental health environment. The challenges and practicalities of providing in-depth treatment are discussed throughout the curriculum.

Schedule and Tuition

This is a two-year program consisting of two 15-week semesters per year for a total of 3.75 hours of weekly instruction. The tuition is $2,800 per year. Participants meet weekly for individual consultation with a member of the faculty at a reduced cost of $60 per session.
